Dates to Remember

30th of January

As a wrap up for our theme of the month, we will be celebrating an " Animals dress up day" that will be full of Animals related fun activities. You will be notified later regarding the dressing code and of any further requirements.

Classroom News

Happy New Year to all the KG1 students, families and friends. We hope that you all had a refreshing and a relaxing winter break. We are so enthusiastic to resume our learning journey together with the promise that it will be as fun and joyful as always.

Throughout this month, we will be learning "All about Animals". In addition to naming different animals and their babies, we will be exploring some of their prominent traits such as the sounds they make, the way they move, their different body parts and what cover their bodies. Moreover, we will be sorting animals out based on their habitat (farm, jungle, desert and ocean), exploring their characteristics and how they meet the environmental conditions an animal needs to survive.

Reading readiness

This months we will be working on your child's reading readiness. The following skills will be introduced and consolidated:

- ❖ The identification of beginning, middle and ending sounds.
- ❖ Vowels a, e, i, o and u.
- ❖ Reading short "a" words such as man, cat and mad.

Week 17: Review the identification of beginning sound, letter recognition and writing.

Week 18: Letter Hh

Some of the words that we will be going over in class: Hammer, hand, heart, hat, hive, horse, house and helicopter.

Week 19: Letter Rr

Some of the words that we will be going over in class: Rocketship, rainbow, rake, river, racoon, rat, rabbit and ring.

Week 20: Letter Mm

Some of the words we will be going over in class: moon, mittens, monkey, mop, moose, mug, marker and mushroom.

Math

We will be learning to recognize, count to and identify the quantity of numbers 9, 10, 11 and 12.

- ❖ Please remember to label your child's winter gear and belongings (gloves, jackets and hats).
- ❖ Children are encouraged to adopt healthy eating habits. Please refrain from sending unhealthy snacks to school.

Throughout the month, children will be making comparisons between sets of the same object and will be identifying the sets that have the "most".

Moreover, the concept of "patterns" will be introduced, and children will learn to predict what comes next in a given arrangement.
